

Children's Booklist 2023: Read-alouds for Gr. 2-3

Grades 2-3

The Electric Slide and Kai

by Kelly J. Baptist

Everyone in the Donovan family can dance--and has a dance nickname--except Kai, but his family helps him practice his moves to prepare for his aunt's wedding reception.

John's turn

by Mac Barnett

In this celebration of individuality, John finds the courage to show others his talent for dancing during his school's Sharing Gifts time.

Lou

by Breanna Carzoo

Meet Lou. Lou has an important job . . . as the neighborhood toilet for dogs on their walks. Useful as he may be, he gets the feeling that deep down inside, there might be more to him than that. He just doesn't seem to know exactly what yet. When disaster strikes, will Lou find out what he's made of and save the day?

The Legend of Rock Paper Scissors

by Drew Daywalt

You've played the game. Now read the legend of how it all began! The award-winning author of The Day the Crayons Quit presents a laugh-out-loud tribute to the fictional warriors who invented a classic childhood game.

Little Messy Marcy Su

by Cherie Fu

This rollicking rhyming picture book, with a unique Chinese-American, intergenerational twist, follows Marcy Su as she exuberantly goes above and beyond what Mama asked her to do to prepare for her grandparents' arrival.

They're So Flamboyant

by Michael Genhart

This funny ode to individuality, community, and harmony follows the reactions of a neighborhood full of birds when a "flamboyance" of flamingos moves in. A gaggle of geese, a dole of doves, a charm of finches, a brood of chickens (and more!) have their feathers ruffled and express their apprehension about the new and different arrivals.

Mother Bruce

by Ryan T. Higgins

Enjoying a life of solitude and delicious hard-boiled eggs, Bruce the bear is surprised when his goose eggs hatch live goslings who believe he is their mother, require constant care, and refuse to fly south.

Something's Wrong! : A Tale of a Bear, a Hare, and Some Underwear

by Jory John

Feeling like he has forgotten something important after completing a busy morning routine, Jeff the bear wonders if the underwear that he is wearing outside of his fur could be the problem.

Read-alouds

Grades 2-3

Baby Clown

by Kara LaReau

When newborn Baby Clown cannot stop crying, his parents and their fellow clowns try everything to help, from making silly faces to giving him rides in their tiny cars. By the author of the Infamous Ratsos series and the creator of the Caldecott Medal-winning Wolf in the Snow.

7 Ate 9 : The Untold Story

by Tara Lazar

6 has a problem. Everyone knows that 7 is always after him. Word on the street is that 7 ate 9. If that's true, 6's days are numbered. Lucky for him, Private I is on the case. But the facts just don't add up. It's odd. Will Private I put two and two together and solve the problem . . . or is 6 next in line to be subtracted?

Just Try One Bite

by Adam Mansbach

The tables are turned when three children try to get their picky eater parents to try just one bite of healthy whole foods, with hilarious results.

Bathe the Cat

by Alice McGinty

To avoid getting a bath, the family cat keeps scrambling the list of chores with hilarious results, in this purr-fectly entertaining read-aloud story.

Everyone's Awake

by Colin Meloy

In this house, when everyone stays awake at night, things get very strange, what with Mom on the roof, and Grandma playing cards with the ghost of long-dead Grandpa Paul, and even the dog and cat are acting weird; as the family's doings become more and more bizarre, the narrator starts to wonder--what on earth will happen when morning finally comes.
